BAKER

The food and drink industry is dynamic, fast-paced and high-tech - not to mention well paid! With plenty of exciting opportunities for progression and roles that require varying levels of responsibility, your career path could go in so many different directions; it's really up to you!

Bakery is one of the largest, most popular and fastest growing areas of the food & drink industry. Every day, millions of loaves of bread and baked goods are made and sold around the world. In this role, you'll never stop developing your skills.

THE APPRENTICESHIP

Our Baker Apprenticeship has been designed and approved by the food and drink industry to give you the specific skills, knowledge and experience they're looking for. So once you qualify, you'll have a solid foundation to take your career as far as you like.

Bakers take great pride in their work, perfecting pastries, pies and cakes to delight their customers. Therefore, your training will include a mix of classroom and on-the-job learning to ensure you have all the industry and technical skills you need to continually create, develop and deliver delicious products.

ABOUT YOU

Whether you want to work in a traditional craft bakery, a specialist retailer, a supermarket, or an automated bakery, this Apprenticeship is for you.

To excel within the programme, you'll be passionate about what you do. You'll also be dedicated to achieving and maintaining the very highest standards.

This qualification has been created in conjunction with the food & drink industry and approved by leading industry experts to include the specific elements employers will be looking for in the future.

EARN WHILE YOU LEARN

Throughout your Apprenticeship you'll benefit from both classroom and on-the-job teaching - and get paid to train. You'll start on around £11,000 in your first year, but many Bakers are paid a premium for their skills, so it's likely you'll earn more as you progress through your career.

Qualified apprentices can look forward to an average starting salary of £26,000

YOUR STUDIES

This programme will equip you with absolutely everything you need to become a baker.

You'll develop an in-depth knowledge of the industry and a broad range of practical skills that will prepare you for work in almost any environment.

Topics you'll cover will include the history of baking, discovering both hand-crafted and mechanical processing methods, principals of ingredients & baking, how to finish products and understand how new products are created.

On the way to achieving your Apprenticeship, you will acquire an L2 Diploma in Bakery - a qualification that's recognised and designed by the industry. You'll also achieve other qualifications, such as an L2 Award in Food Safety and an L2 Award in HACCP, which will really help to boost your CV.
